

PERCIVAL

Percival holds out his hands for the conch.

PERCIVAL: Now we can't have the fire up there — because we can't have the fire up there — we need more people to keep it going. Let's go to this feast and tell them the fire's hard on the rest of us. And the hunting and all that, being savages I mean — it must be jolly good fun.