

RALPH & SIMON

RALPH: Not into the hunt, huh?

SIMON: Not really. Did you and Jack really not find any evidence of the beast?

RALPH: We didn't even make it to the top of the mountain. Jack is more interested in making a fort, hunting pigs, and rousing chaos than rescue or a beast. It's maddening.

SIMON: Why follow him then?

RALPH: I'm not.

SIMON: You're here on the hunting party, aren't you?

RALPH: So are you.

SIMON: I quit. I can survive on the fruit that we find until we get rescued.
